INJURED AT TWIN LAKE

B. C. SOUTHWORTH IS STRUCK BY BROKEN POLE FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

Was Engaged in Erection of 40,000 lb. Monument When Guy Pole Broke.

A telephone call to the Tribune from Twin Lake Friday afternoon announced the fact that B. C. Southworth, of the monumental firm of Southworth and Son, had been injured, while engaged in helping to place the Menominee Indian monument, at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. The men were engaged in placing the massive die, which was being lowered into its position by means of a heavy lifting crane. A large telephone pole, being used as a guy pole, gave way under the strain and broke off about five feet from the top of the pole. The falling piece struck Mr. Southworth on the head, left shoulder, and arm. He was rendered unconscious for several minutes. Dr. Knott of Plymouth, was summoned. After recovering consciousness Mr. Southworth bled profusely from the wounds.

The injuries consisted of a badly dislocated shoulder, besides the bruises, according to the latest reports. Mr. Southworth is sixty-five years of age, and will soon recover.

Death of Oscar Cressner.

Oscar Clifford Williams, known as Oscar Cressner, died at the home of his parents, on east Jefferson street at 10 o'clock Wednesday night, aged seventeen years, two months and 30 days. Death was due to pulmonary tuberculosis, with which he had been suffering for several months. His affliction required him to quit his work on Feb. 15th of this year, but he has been bedfast for only three weeks.

Oscar was born in Jay county on May 12th, 1892, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Williams. When three years old his father died. Before the death of his father, they moved to Burr Oak in this county, where they resided for three years. His widowed mother then moved to Chicago, where they lived for four years, and then came to Plymouth. His mother was married to Charles Cressner in 1896, and the boy has always been called Cressner.

The funeral was held at the residence at 10:00 Friday morning, services conducted by Rev. Howard, after which the remains were taken to Burr Oak, for interment in the cemetery there.

You Must Answer Correctly.

Here are a few of the more important provisions of the bill providing for the taking of the thirteenth census, next year.

Enumerators will begin their work on the 15th of next April and must finish it in two weeks to thirty days. Supervisors of whom there shall not be more than 300 shall be appointed before October 15, or six months before the date of beginning the taking of the census.

Supervisors are to be appointed by the president and confirmed by the senate. While the law does not say so, the president will not accept recommendations from senators and representatives.

In so far as practicable supervisors' districts are to conform to congressional districts.

Thirteen supervisors, one for each congressional district, will be appointed for Indiana.

Each supervisor will employ enumerators, one or more of each subdivision.

The pay of a supervisor is $1,500 and one dollar for each thousand of population enumerated.

An appropriate allowance for clerk hire will be made for supervisors.

The rate of compensation fixed for enumeration is flexible. The basis is this: Not less than 2 or more than 4 cents for each barn or inclosure containing livestock not on farms and not less than 20 or more than 30 cents for each farm reported; 10 cents for each farm or inclosure containing live stock not on farms and not less than 20 or more than 30 cents for each establishment of productive industry reported.

The compensation allowed an enumerator shall under no consideration exceed $6 a day of eight hours.

Any person over twenty-one years of age who refuses to answer any question submitted by the government through the enumerator may be fined $100. The same fine is provided for a false answer.

Examinations will be open to all applicants without regard to political party affiliations and will be held at such places in each state as may be designated by the civil service commission.

No person will be eligible to an examination or appointment unless he shall have actually domiciled in the state or territory in which the examination is held for at least one year previously to the examination.

SLIPPED AWAY TO ST. JOE.

Mrs. Jennie Street of Kewanna, Married Plymouth Man at Michigan Town.

(Kewanna Herald.)

Hardly had last week's Herald reached the post office than it was noticed about town that Mrs. Jennie Street had slipped away to St. Joe, Mich., and there united in marriage with Mr. Emanuel Price of Plymouth. The cause of the news being suppressed until Thursday evening was that Mrs. Street didn't want the Herald to have it. She told a representative of the paper so Monday, after arriving home from the honeymoon trip. "Because I was afraid you would make it so sensational," she said, "and I did not want you to use big headlines."

The marriage occurred August 5 and was solemnized by the judge of the court there. The couple spent several days at Michigan summer resorts and returned to Indiana the latter part of the week stopping off at Plymouth, Mr. Price's home.

Mr. Price is a brick mason by trade and has accumulated considerable property, owning a fine home and other realty at Plymouth where he has resided for the past forty years. His bride has been a citizen of Kewanna for forty-three years and regrets leaving here as well as her many friends regret to have her go. This will be the groom's fourth cruise on the matrimonial sea and the third for Mrs. Price.

The couple will reside at Plymouth and they have the best wishes of the Herald and their many friends here.

Wherever the immigrants have located, the D. A. R. are taking up the work of teaching the children the meaning of the Constitution, the Declaration of Independence, what the flag stands for, and many other things which will go toward making them worthy citizens, and intelligent voters.

The recent appointed a committee to assist the State Historian D. A. R. in collecting records, letters, wills, etc. of the early settlers of Indiana, each chapter doing this work in their own country. Much valuable matter has been thrown away that now would make interesting history. Copies will now be made of such records as remain, and placed on file at the state headquarters at Indianapolis.

REV. MILLER TO LEAVE PLYMOUTH

PASTOR OF THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH WILL GO TO ROCHESTER.

Has Been in Charge of the Local Congregation For Almost Two Years.

Rev. E. Miller pastor of the Christian church in this city, preached his farewell sermon to his Plymouth congregation last Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. As soon as his affairs were wound up in this city, he will leave for Rochester, where he will accept the pastorate of the Christian church there. Rev. Miller and his family moved to Plymouth from Remington, Ind., in February of 1908. He has been joint pastor of the Plymouth and Etta Green congregations since that time. The Plymouth congregation consists of about fifty members and the congregation has had difficulty in meeting the expenses arising from payment on the recently built church, and pastor's salary. Rev. Miller has been offered the Rochester charge, which consists of about 200 members. His salary at his new charge will be $1000 per year and house rent.

Rev. Miller with his family, expect to be moved to their new home by September 1st.

In the departure of Rev. Miller, the city of Plymouth and Christian congregation loses a prominent citizen, a hard worker, and an intelligent up-to-date minister. His family will leave many friends in Plymouth, who wish them success in their new home.

M. E. CONFERENCE.

Northwest Indiana Will Be Held at Crawfordsville, Ind. in September—Noables to be Present.

The Methodists of the northwest district are making preparations for the annual conference, which is to be held at Crawfordsville in September. The program will be an unusually interesting one and many distinguished men of the church will be in attendance. They will come from New York, San Francisco, Chicago, Philadelphia, Cincinnati and elsewhere, thus representing the wide and various interests of the Methodist Episcopal church.

This convention will be the fifty-eighth annual session of the northwest Indiana conference. The first session was held in Terre Haute beginning September 28th, 1852, Bishop O. C. Baker presiding. Already the conference has been held three times in Crawfordsville, in 1856, 1871 and 1890. The last session held there was presided over by the late Bishop C. H. Fowler. Of the men who helped organized the conference fifty-eight years ago only three are members now. They are Samuel Cox of Chicago, Rev. Samuel Godfrey of Lafayette, and Rev. Nelson Green of Danville, Ind. All three are superannuated. There are about 225 ministers in the conference.

The business of the conference will begin on Wednesday morning Sept. 8th. The conference will convene, however on Tuesday evening to hear the conference sermon which will be preached by the Rev. William Forney Hovis, D. D. of South Bend.

Weather Prophecies.

There are many reasons—personal, social and economic—why men should desire to know what the weather is to be. And out of long experience there has come a knowledge of causes or signs by which the weather can be foretold for a few hours, possibly for a couple of days.

The weather lore of sailors and farmers has been crystallized into proverb—but all have their limitations of foresight usually to a single day.

The curiosity of mankind has not been content with this, however, and thus there have always been eager seekers after signs for longer periods. These have been sought in the position or appearance of the moon, the thickness of the husks on corn or of the fur on woodchucks, or the shape of the "melt" in hogs. The absurdity of all these "signs" and the fact that not half the time do they prove true has not prevented a large amount of faith in them among credulous people.

Even more absurd is the confidence placed in the predictions of the old style almanacs, telling the weather of days; as if any almanac-maker could foretell the weather a year ahead! Of course, in this multitudinous guessing there must be occasional cases which prove a "hit," and by a peculiarity of human nature they are all remembered while those that miss are forgotten.

Notices to Trustees.

Another step to the making uniform of all accounts in the state has been taken by the state board of accounts, which has just sent to the 1,016 township trustees in Indiana a new form for the recording of contractors' bids for supplies. A notice to each trustee calls his attention to the law governing the letter of supplies and warns trustees not to permit the overhauling of some of their funds, a practice which the notice declares exists in a few cases.

Three Governors in Michigan.

People are wondering what Gov. Marshall of Indiana, and Gov. Harmon of Ohio, are talking about while they are spending their vacation at Petoskey, Mich. They are there to stay a month and Judge Johnson of Minnesota is coming.

SPITE WORK LOSES OUT

MEDICAL BOARD REFUSES TO CONSIDER CASE OF PLYMOUTH PHYSICIAN

Business Rivals Sought to Have License of Dr. N. B. Aspinall Revoked—Was Failure.

By the decision of the state medical board in session at Indianapolis last Wednesday, a pretty piece of spite work and cowardly business rivalry by two physicians of this city, who sought to have the license of Dr. Aspinall revoked, was frustrated. By charges and representations, these two Plymouth physicians succeeded in having the case of Dr. Aspinall, whom they charged with obtaining his license fraudulently, set for hearing before the state board. The case was to have been tried last Wednesday, and Dr. Aspinall accompanied by attorney William Matthews went to Indianapolis Tuesday morning. Dr. Aspinall and Judge W. B. Hess went to Indianapolis Tuesday evening, the former as the chief accuser against Dr. Aspinall. When the case was called and the board had learned of the reputation of Dr. Aspinall, as a physician and surgeon, they refused to hear any evidence, or even consider the case, and sustained Dr. Aspinall without trial.

This victory of Dr. Aspinall over his business rivals, who did not hesitate to stoop to such nefarious methods, is received with pleasure by his many friends. There is too much of this spite business in Plymouth. It has been suggested that the accusers of Dr. Aspinall have been guilty of instances of misprudence which have resulted seriously enough to justify a revocation of license, if any should be made.

BUMPER CROPS FOR INDIANA

Corn and Oats to Yield Big Profits For Hoosier Farmers This Year.

The corn crop and the oats crop in Indiana are certainly bumper crops, according to a bulletin just issued by the crop reporting board of the bureau of statistics of the department of agriculture. The average condition of corn in Indiana on Aug. 1 was 90, as compared with 75 one year ago. The 10-year average in Indiana on Aug. 1 has been 85.

The Indiana oats crop does not seem to be far behind the corn. The average condition of the oats crop on Aug. 1 in Indiana was 92, as compared with 59 one year previous. The 10-year August average has been only 82.

Dog Days are Here.

An inquirer who wants to know something about the origin of "dog days," the season of the year when dogs go mad, food spoils, bathing in streams is supposed unhealthy and various diseases are prevalent and more fatal, etc. Investigation shows the expression "dog days" refers to the rising of the star Sirius and covers a period of forty days, twenty days before the appearance of the star and twenty days after, the time known by astronomers as "Dies Caniculares." That the appearance of Sirius has anything to do with the heat or disease was a foolish opinion of the ancient star gazers, for the time of rising depends on the latitude and is later and later in all latitudes. In time the dog star or Sirius will rise in the dead of winter and when it does milk will continue to sour in August time and dogs will continue to go mad—Warsaw Daily Times.

SUES NICKLE PLATE RAILROAD

TIPPECANOE TP. FARMER ASKS FOR $1800 FOR DAMAGES SUSTAINED.

Says Locomotive Set Fire to Timber and Ruined Soil in September, 1908.

James M. Shaffer of Tippecanoe township, by his attorney S. N. Stevens, has brought suit against the New York, Chicago, and St. Louis Ry. Co. for damages in the sum of $1800, for damages alleged to have been done to his property adjoining the Nickel Plate tracks near Tippecanoe. The complaint filed Tuesday, alleges that on Sept. 17, 1908 trains running on the railroad set fire to weeds and dry material which had been allowed to accumulate on the right of way, which fire spread to his farm, burning down 270 rods of rail fence, 30 cords of stacked wood, besides ruining several acres of soil which was burnt out, and destroying standing timber. The fire which was alleged to have been started by the trains, continued to burn for several days, until extinguished by heavy rains.

TO AID FRUIT GROWERS.

A campaign is under way to hold demonstration meetings in every locality in the state.

Indiana fruit growers are to have the benefit of another and new line of work from the Department of Horticulture, of the Purdue University Agricultural Experiment Station. Plans have just been announced by the Experiment Station providing for a series of neighborhood demonstration meetings to illustrate the up-to-date process in caring for orchards. Some men are making money from their fruit trees and many are not. The difference is in the care the trees receive. Here is a chance for every one who wants to know, to learn from observation instead of reading. This work should be of the greatest value to the fruit growers of Indiana, especially to the larger class of tree owners who now possess small orchards and wish to get something out of them in the way of plentiful crops of sound fruit.

These meetings will furnish just the information that such men need. This information will be presented in a practical way, and the processes discussed will be actually carried on in the orchards in which the meetings are held, so that every step may be thoroughly understood.

The Horticulturists of the Experiment Station will arrange to hold a meeting wherever an orchard will be provided and ten men will pledge their interest. Here is an opportunity to find out what to do for your trees; how to spray, how to prune, how and when to apply the remedies for the San Jose scale, and to see a study a practical spray outfit in operation.

The Department of Horticulture wishes to begin the meetings at as early a date as possible. Any one interested in bringing the demonstration to his own neighborhood should write at once for further particulars to C. G. Woodbury, Associate Horticulturist, Purdue Experiment Station, Lafayette, Ind.

Peppermint Crop Short This Year.

Peppermint growers in northern Indiana and southern Michigan have begun distilling the oil. The world's supply of peppermint is grown within a radius of about 100 miles in northern Indiana and southern Michigan. A. M. Todd of Kalamazoo, Mich., has the largest farm and Albert Beebe & Sons, of Niles, have the second largest. One of the farms comprises upwards of 900 acres. Last season, the average yield per acre on this farm was 50 pounds, which was the biggest yield reported by any growers. There is a drop this year, however, of from 25 to 50 per cent. The present price is $1.50 a pound, but in view of the prospective short crop, the market is expected to advance. The price last year ranged from $1.25 to $1.40 a pound.

Peppermint oil is used principally for medicinal purposes and for confections. The plant thrives best in low, marshy land, is not productive on high land.

ENROLLMENT OF SCHOOL ATTENDANCE IN COUNTY SHOWS INCREASE

Total Number of Attendants Was 5,700—Wages of School Teachers Is Greatly Increased.

The statistical report of County Superintendent of Schools, L. E. Steinebach, has just been completed and presents some interesting figures on the advance made by the schools of Marshall county during the past year.

The total enrollment of the schools of Marshall county has increased during the past year over what it was in 1908. The enrollment just completed for the years 1908-1909, gives a total enrollment of 5700, while that of 1907-1908, was 5628. The number of teachers employed during the past year was 186, or five less than the year before when the total number was 191. However owing to the going into effect of the new salary law, the salaries paid to teachers in the county has made a gain of over six thousand dollars. The total amount paid to teachers in the past school year was $83,911.74, while the amount paid the year before was $77,808.32.

Attendance is Better.

Another point which speaks well for the schools in the county, is the fact that the average daily attendance has increased more than the gain in enrollment. The average attendance for the past year was 4788, while that for the year before, was 4692.9. The total number of graduates during the past year was 281, in the grades, and for the year before 264.

Statistical Report.

The statistical report, which will be made to State Superintendent, shows the following figures, for the year 1908-1909:

	Enrollment	Av. daily at.

Bremen	413	360
Culver	257	221
Plymouth	800	667

While the total enrollment is shown to be 5700, the enumeration recently made gives the number of children in the county between the ages of 6 and 21, as 7187.
